Volume 36 Number 5
January 2019

Anacortes AAUW and Humanities Washington Speakers Bureau invite the community to an engaging presentation exploring the epic life and influence of Chief Seattle on Thursday, January 10, at the Anacortes Public Library, with hospitality at 6:45 and the program at 7:00 pm.

Chief Seattle was a warrior, orator, benefactor and visionary who helped found the city that bears his name. Historian David M. Buerge has spent more than 20 years exploring this complex figure to uncover how one man's story has and continues to shape the identity of the city. Buerge will address both historical and fictional aspects of Chief Seattle's life and the conflicting messages that can be gleaned from myriad sources. Buerge has published 14 books, and his latest, Chief Seattle and the Town that Took His Name, is the first biography of Chief Seattle intended for adults.

Fundraising

Terri - Bags – not here till January. Terri will follow up with merchants with an information page. Bags will be delivered to Chamber of Commerce. Then Terri will notify the merchants who can purchase their bags at the Chamber. All others can purchase the bags from Safeway or the Market. The merchants who will be reimbursing us as they sell a bag (e.g. The Market) will send money to our postal box monthly.

Discussed selling bags at the farmer's market booth – are we allowed to?

Update: Terri met with the Market and they prefer that she go in person to pick up the check from the bag sales. The Chamber prefers this too. Terri will plan to drop by once a month or so to get the reimbursement checks.

Beth – she sent out a report. To be made a part of the minutes. Terri talks about dangers of guiding racers and traffic. Would be good to have a hand-held stop sign. Robin will talk to Beth.

Update: Signs are not permitted. Beth sent out an email regarding other safety steps that will be taken.

Rosette – Marathon (formerly Andover) has sent $10,000 check. She will set up AAUW table at Dash.
